With Alvin's easy access to downtown Houston, two state highways, Port Freeport, and the Port of Houston, rail service by BNSF and Union Pacific, and Hobby Airport, logistics say it all. With Alvin Community College and our surrounding members of the Texas Gulf Coast Consortium of Community Colleges, education and workforce training are ready to be delivered to your company. Whether it is a business expansion, relocation, or a start up, Alvin will show value right to your bottom line.

UPDATE! Alvin's Comprehensive Plan Citizens Advisory Committee continues their work to update the City's Master Plan. The Comprehensive Plan is designed to help guide the city toward more commercial and residential growth. Over the last several years, the Comprehensive Plan provided the road map that addressed many of the city needs for drainage, park upgrades, beautification, and future planning strategies. It is now time to re

-engage the community to help with the update, and as it is implemented will assure our progress continues, keeping Alvin the great place to call home.

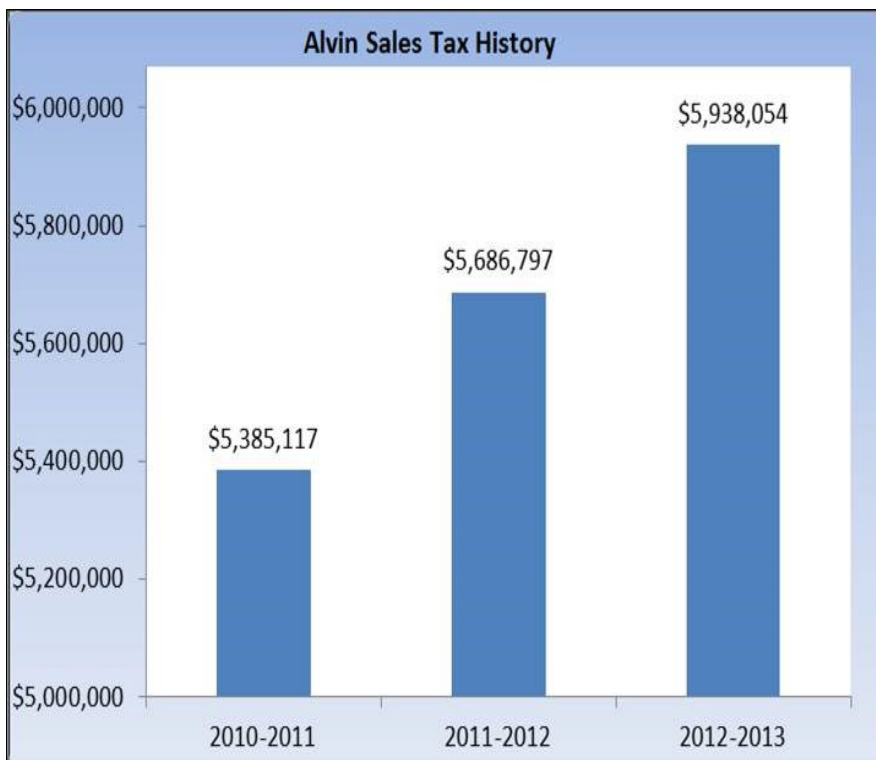

Development continues with Frank's Casing International, below, and a new health related project on State Highway 6 to be announced soon.

The City of Alvin recently completed a Street Assessment study conducted by James Thompson of JET Civil Consulting. This study provides the age and condition of all city streets. The information from this study will be used to incorporate into the Capital Improvement Plan (CIP) to prioritize additional street projects.

One measurement of the health of a city is its sales tax. Alvin has a strong record of increase over the last several years. The graph below shows our growth rate for the last three years. Current year-to-date average is 5.1% over year 2012-2013. Remember, keep shopping right here at home. You are helping our local economy.
